

(a) contacting the inclusion bodies with an aqueous alcohol solution at an alkaline pH to solubilize said protein; and

10           (b) bringing the solubilized protein into contact with a mild oxidizing agent to refold and form intramolecular disulfide bonds between cysteine residues of said protein.